Basic Alpine Rock Course
Eastern Sierra Nevada,
California Alpine Rock 1 Course
3 Days

Alpine Rock 1: A 3-Day Course focuses on the skills for a beginner to intermediate climber needed to get into the higher alpine rock environments. Alpine rock has unique considerations that you don't find in gyms or crags. These objectives require a unique skill set. In this course we cover how to build different types of anchors, belay & climbing techniques, etc. This Alpine Rock course is operated in a format of 3 consecutive single day trips. It's a convenient format that allows for ample time on the rock, and for a different classroom each day of the course. Forest Service campgrounds are located only minutes away from our daily meeting locations, and motels and lodges are available in Mammoth Lakes, CA. (feel free to reach out to us for suggestions on where to stay).

Course Location: Mammoth Lakes, California

Itinerary:

Day 1: We start with an 8:00 am meeting at Mammoth Lakes Forest Service Visitor. From here we'll drive to our rock-climbing site. It's located a short distance away, so we will have plenty of time to work on rock skills until late afternoon (4:00–5:00 pm).

Group Size: Minimum group size is 2 guests (1 guide), and a maximum of 6 (2 guides)

Experience Level: Beginning to intermediate rock-climbing skills. Guests should be able to hike 2-3 miles with a light pack at a moderate speed.

Note: This course consists of three consecutive day trips, no overnight backcountry equipment is required. Each evening you'll have the ability to explore the natural beauty of the area or check out what's around town. We're happy to make recommendations for where to stay, and what to do while in the area. We highly recommend making reservations at Forest Service campgrounds, motels, and lodges prior to your arrival to the area. Most are located only minutes away from daily meeting points, so choose your own style of accommodation.
